Date Announced for Father-Son Banquet

Plans for the Fourth Annual Father-Son banquet sponsored by the Varsity Club of Torrance High have progressed to the point where Coach Eddie Cole was drafting this week over the anticipated night of dining and entertainment.

"Even more gala than last year," was his prediction for the event, scheduled for May 22 in the Civic Auditorium.

On the bill-of-fare for the evening is a guest speaker who will compete for his plaudits with exhibitions of boxing, wrestling, tumbling and other feats of athletic skill.

TICKETS ON SALE
 Tickets went on sale this week at 75 cents a plate. Coach Cole wanted it pointed out that in spite of the inflationary trend in all other phases of private and public enterprise, the price of the annual father-and-son feed has remained the same since its inception. Members of the Varsity Club have the tickets.

EXPECT A MOB
 More than 700 men and boys attended last year's feast. An even larger mob of hungry men is expected this year, according to Varsity Club President Jim Taylor. Taylor said a special section of the feasting boards would be reserved for former Varsity Club members who returned for the event.

Another annual feature of the banquet was assured this week when Cole said officials of Mayfair Creamery had offered to furnish all the milk and cream for the banquet as they have in past years.

Enlistment Policy Eased

The basic policy in regards to enlistment of college and high school students in the California National Guard has been relaxed by the National Military Establishment according to information received by California National Guard Headquarters.

According to the rules now governing, college or high school students may enlist in the California National Guard up to the time the local board mails an order to report for induction. Thus if a student has been ordered for physical examination or has been given a physical examination but has not been ordered for induction he may enlist in the California National Guard.

Oil Firm Gives Longevity Pins To 13 Employees

Thirteen members of the Torrance Refinery staff of General Petroleum lined up for their longevity service pins recently while two others announced that they were retiring.

Retiring as a pipettiter with the engineering department at the refinery is James Conn, whose first plans are to visit friends and relatives in Waukegan, Illinois. He wants to return to California and settle down near some good hunting and fishing grounds, he said.

Fred Morrish, who also announced his retirement, said he had visited 32 of the states, and now he was going out to have a look at the other 16. When he's through traveling, he wants to return to California and devote a lot of time to his woodworking hobbies, he said.

Recognized for 25 years service with the corporation was James Wallace, a member of the comptroller's staff here. A service pin denoting 15 years of service went to D. L. Fields of the refining department, and nine employees received pins for 10 years. These included Paul Dorin, Coy Oral Dunn, Lars Haaland, Arthur Harwood, Frank McCarthy, Robert Ray Potes, Carl E. Vidano, Edwin C. Williams, and T. W. Woodland.

Five year pins were presented to H. J. Birkenstock and Theodore J. Gates.

In announcing the new deadline, Mrs. Brodersen said that entries had been pouring in for the various sections of the show and that the registering was so well along that the additional time to accept entries was made possible.
